

Definition of EAIC Membership

Member shall mean individual or corporation having been admitted by the Executive Board of the EAIC in consideration of the fulfillment of the required qualifications and the payment of the membership fees.

Those with membership applications pending for approval should submit the proof of membership application form and fees remittance in order to be eligible for the member registration fees.

The following membership categories are defined in accordance with the EAIC statutes.

Regular Member - Member Cities

Bandar Seri Begawan, Bangkok, Hong Kong, Jakarta, Kuala Lumpur, Macau, Manila, Phnom Penh, Seoul, Singapore, Taipei and Tokyo.

Associate Member - Neighboring Countries

Members in Bangladesh, Bhutan, Fiji, India, Pakistan, Papua New Guinea and Sri Lanka.

Regular Corporate Member

- Insurance companies authorised, licensed or registered in member cities.
- Companies providing services related to insurance and are authorised, licensed or registered in member cities.
- Other related organisations such as associations, research or training institutes licensed or registered in member cities.

Associate Corporate Member

- Insurance companies authorised, licensed or registered in the neighbouring countries.
- Companies with services related to insurance authorised, licensed or registered in the neighbouring countries.
- Other related organisations such as associations, research or training institutes licensed or registered in the neighbouring countries.
- Corporate membership will entitle all full-time employees of the company to attend the Conference at Member's registration fees.

Regular Individual Member

- Individual resident in member cities affiliated with any organisation that would itself be eligible to be a Regular Corporate Member. (It does not include people from overseas head offices and branches.)
- Professors, teachers and researchers specialising in insurance in member cities.

Associate Individual Member

- Individual affiliated with any organisation that would itself be eligible to be an Associate Corporate Member. (It does not include people from overseas head offices and branches.)
- Professors, teachers and researchers specialising in insurance in neighboring countries.
- Individual Membership is not transferable. Only the membership holder will be entitled to the Member's registration fees.

Observer

Anyone outside the definition of Regular or Associate Member.

Accompanying Person

Spouse of a delegate.

EAIC Membership

For more information, please visit <http://eaic-network.org/members/>.